Experience Report: Semester in Innsbruck

Studying in Innsbruck has been a great experience for me.

On the social aspect- it took very little time until most of us found nice people and befriended with them, the city is full of friendly students and it seems that connections happen here all the time.

It was also great to experience how studies are been handled in my field in another country.

I was very interested in the courses I took and I have to recommend for any incoming computer science students to take the Machine Learning course taught by Justus Piater- one of the most, if not the most, interesting and practical courses I studied in my degree so far !

Last- I would definitely include how beautiful this city is and how much it has to offer for anyone that wants to combine studying with their love of snowboarding or skiing- there is no better place.
