

New Courses for the Winter Semester 2019/2020 in „Israel Studies“ Institute of Contemporary History

Prof. Noam Zadoff

622010 Global History: The History of the Israeli-Arab Conflict as History of Emotions

This lecture course analyzes the history of the Middle-East conflict through the prism of History of Emotions. Placing human emotions at the center of the discussion we will seek to understand better central events in the history of the State of Israel such as the war of 1948, the Six-Day War, the peace accords with Egypt and the first and second Intifada.

622003 UE Sources and Studies in Contemporary History: Zionism and Science

One of the central goals of Zionism - the Jewish National Movement - was to understand and explore the Land of Israel through science. The basic assumption of this course is that science was the tool, through which the Zionist movement sought to fulfill itself.

Language of Instruction: English (exams and papers can be also written in German)

Online-enrollment required, starting on September 1st, 2019, on lfu:online