

© Ben-Gurion
University of the Negev

Prof. Yael Hashiloni Dolev,
Ben-Gurion University of the Negev (Israel)

Bioethics in Israeli Society

A Conversation
Wednesday, January 19, 2022, at 18:00 (CET)

Zoom Meeting-ID: 3476658919;
Kenncode: aianiuibk

in conversation with

© D. Bullock/Medical
University of Innsbruck

Prof. Gabriele Werner-Felmayer,
Medical University Innsbruck

Organized as part of the lecture series "Promised Land - Israel between Vision and Reality". More information: <http://www.aiani.at/promised-land---photo-exhibition-and-lecture-series.html> or scan QR code:

In Zusammenarbeit mit der Theologischen Fakultät, dem Institut für Zeitgeschichte und dem Schwerpunkt Disability Studies der Universität Innsbruck

Technology-based high-profile medicine plays an important role for Israel's highly diverse society. This unique blend of diverse traditions and high-tech view, offers a number of interesting issues for bioethics. In this conversation, the two experts will touch upon the use of new fertility technologies in a pronatalist society. It will be also discussed how Covid-19 challenged the sanctity of life principle among Orthodox communities. A Q&A session will offer the possibility for discussion and exchange.