

University of Innsbruck Course Catalog

1. Go to the website www.uibk.ac.at and choose the language „English“

2. Click on “Studies” and you will find “International Study” on the bottom left corner.

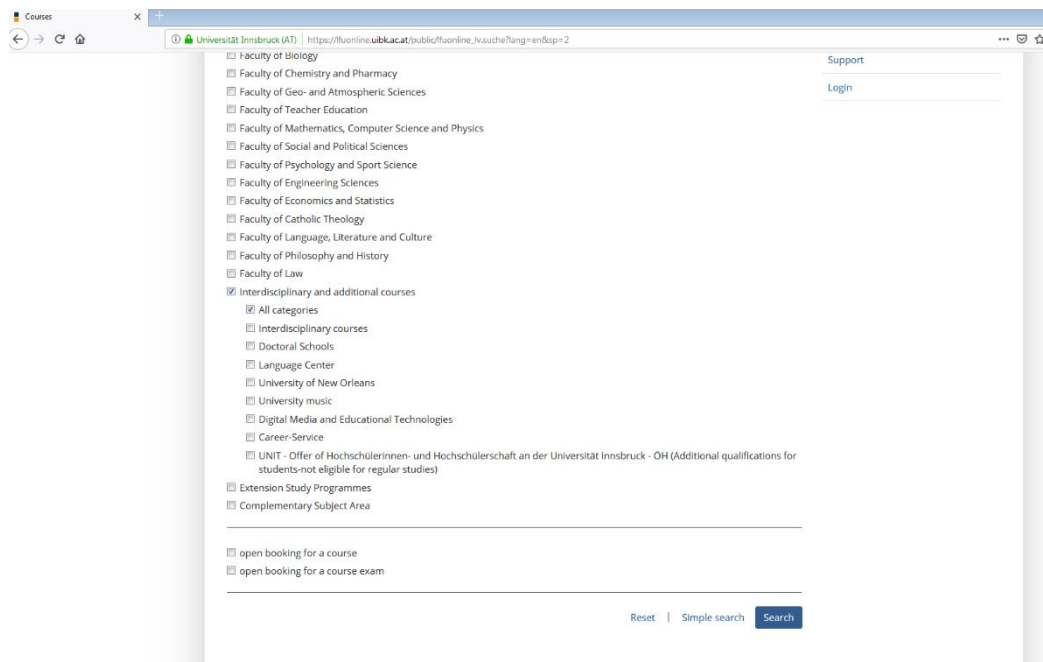

3. You will find more information on “Studying in Innsbruck” including “Programmes and Courses in English”.

4. Scroll down and click on “Course Catalog”.

5. You can choose between the current semester and past semesters. Make sure the “Language of instruction” is English. If you scroll down further, you can find the different faculties and study programmes. Choose the faculty that is of interest for you and find your equivalent Bachelor, Master or PhD program. Notice that some courses will be offered every semester, but not every course is offered each semester.

You may also want to check courses in other faculties/departments that may be of interest to you or the “Interdisciplinary course offering”!

6. You will find detailed information about the course if you click on it (which department, the professor, credit hours, etc.). Beware! The Language of instruction must be English!

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the course catalog for the University of Innsbruck. The main content area shows the details for course 603064. The course title is 'SE Principals of Educational Science: Advanced I: Biography, life course and disability'. The language of instruction is 'English', which is circled in yellow. Other details include the instructor Inga Reichelt, MA, and the department Department of Educational Science. A red arrow points to the course number '603064' in the left sidebar, and another red box highlights the course title at the top of the detail view.

7. IMPORTANT: If you are interested in taking any Business or Economic courses, please let us know asap! The course registration will be different than for other courses!